Hi Sarah, Just thought I'd share a little pearl that will probably make you smile. Lexie just won an "Al Neuharth Free Spirit Award/Scholarship" in journalism (He is the founder of USA Today). Anyway, they choose 2 students from each state and bring them all to Washington, DC to compete for a 50K scholarship in March. Since you were at Colony High to induct Lexie into Quill&Scroll, I thought you would appreciate the scope of this award. By the way, her focus is currently on Pre-Med...go figure!! Take Care, keep up the good work. Kathy Krell

Subject: Earmarks

Fairbanks Newsminer is mischaracterizing our position and statements on earmarks - today's editorial is so off base that we need to submit a letter to the ed, or an op-ed, along the lines of our Carl Marrs response. None of us have said earmarks are what these editors claim we've suggested.

John- would you rewrite the Marrs response for the Newsminer?

Here we're trying to assist and "obey" Young and Stevens re: laying off earmark requests (for their own good too), and they're letting our efforts bite us in the butt. I spoke with Lisa about this yest at the Iditarod start, thanked her for her understanding of where we are on this, and had a good conversation with her saying she knows we're trying to do the right thing on this. We'll have lunch in two weeks when she's back up.
